Summary

I am goal orientated and hard working. I love a challenge but will ask for help if necessary. I'm naturally curious, outgoing and very sociable. I adore puzzles and developing strategies via discussion. I prefer to be well rounded in any given task.

I am very art orientated and examine the world around me in different ways. I love using new materials and won't hesitate to experiment. I am a painter and drawer by favorite medium of oils and ink but have found a new relationship in sculpture with the mediums of plaster, cardboard, foam, and found materials. I am incredibly interested in how people learn and how different ways that can effect their understanding and creating art.
